2014 EXHIBIT SPACE RESTRICTIONS

Due to the continued high demand for exhibit space at OTC, we have concluded the re-evaluation of exhibit space restrictions for 2014.

The exhibit space restrictions in effect for 2014 are based on a sound business decision to maintain the integrity of the OTC priority system as well as to benefit all OTC exhibitors. In summary, OTC 2014 will operate under a “no growth” policy, and indoor exhibit space will be determined using the exhibitor’s 2012 and 2013 indoor space utilization.

Exhibit Space Restrictions

- Exhibitors with a priority number will be allowed to contract indoor exhibit space equivalent to their 2012 or 2013 indoor exhibit space, whichever is greater. The following are two scenarios:
  - In 2012, Exhibitor A had 400 indoor net square feet, and in 2013, Exhibitor A had 200 indoor net square feet. In 2014, Exhibitor A will be allowed to contract for 400 indoor net square feet.
  - In 2012, Exhibitor B had 1,000 indoor net square feet, and in 2013, Exhibitor B had 1,000 indoor net square feet. In 2014, Exhibitor B will be allowed to contract for 1,000 indoor net square feet.
    - Exception: An exhibitor who had 100 square feet indoor space in 2012 and 100 square feet indoor space in 2013 may increase to 200 square feet indoor space in 2014.
- The maximum allowable exhibit space for an international stand (pavilion/organizer) or one company (including divisions and subsidiaries) may not exceed 10,000 indoor net square feet of which all square feet must be contiguous. This will be uniformly enforced.
- An exhibitor requesting a separate location(s) for its division(s) will only be allowed to contract for space per the restricted net square footage. All exhibit space must be contiguous.
- A new exhibiting company, with no priority number, will only be allowed to contract for a total of 200 indoor net square feet.
- There are currently no space restrictions for the outdoor exhibition areas, whether the exhibitor has a priority number or is a new exhibiting company; however, outdoor space will not be used in calculating your maximum allotted indoor space. The OTC Pavilion is considered to be outdoor space.
- In order to maintain the integrity of the OTC Space Assignment Process, these restrictions will be uniformly enforced to all exhibitors with no exceptions permitted.

OTC appreciates your ongoing support of the premier event in the offshore E&P industry.
We look forward to working with you on another successful OTC in 2014!
